CC0 Public Domain Dedication with Soft-Law Guiding Principles

Repository: Modular-Regional-Stability-Frameworks-List

Author and Custodian: Heather Leblanc

Published from: Canada

Executed this 23rd day of July, 2026

I. Scope and Application

This dedication applies to every document, framework, annex, and supporting text uploaded to the repository named above. Each document constitutes a "Work," and collectively they constitute the "Repository Works."

Where an individual Work carries its own explicit dedication or waiver, that instrument governs the Work. In the absence of such an instrument, this Clause 1.0 applies.

II. Public Domain Dedication (CC0 1.0 Universal)

To the extent possible under law, the author has waived all copyright and related or neighboring rights to the Repository Works.

Any person or entity is free to copy, modify, distribute, translate, adapt, or perform the Works, even for commercial or governmental purposes, without permission or attribution.

Where full waiver is not recognized, the author grants a worldwide, royalty-free, irrevocable, perpetual, non-exclusive license to exercise all rights in the Repository Works to the maximum extent permitted by law.

For the full legal text of CC0, see: <https://creativecommons.org/publicdomain/zero/1.0/>

III. Guiding Humanitarian Principles

The following principles express the author's intent for how the Repository Works may be used. These principles are non-binding, non-mandatory, and create no legal or contractual obligations. They serve as a voluntary, good-faith reference for governments, organizations, and practitioners who wish to align their use of the Works with the author's humanitarian purpose.

1. Humanitarian Orientation

Users are encouraged to apply the Works in ways that support:

- de-escalation of conflict
- protection of civilian life
- stabilization of fragile regions
- reduction of coercive or punitive outcomes

2. Integrity of Protective Elements

Where a Work contains humanitarian safeguards, stabilizing mechanisms, or de-escalatory architecture, users are encouraged to preserve these elements when adapting or implementing the Work, as they form an integral part of the framework's intended humanitarian and stabilization architecture.

3. Transparency of Purpose

Users are invited, though not required, to communicate publicly or internally that their use of the Works aims to advance peaceful conflict resolution, responsible governance, or humanitarian protection.

4. Cooperative and Multilateral Spirit

Users are encouraged to consider collaborative or multilateral approaches when implementing the Works, especially in contexts where shared oversight or joint stewardship may enhance stability and trust.

5. Respect for Civilian Protection Norms

Users are encouraged to interpret and apply the Works in a manner consistent with widely recognized humanitarian norms, including minimizing harm to civilians and supporting mechanisms that reduce escalation risks.

These principles are expressive, not prescriptive. They articulate the author's hopes for the Works' role in global stability while preserving full CC0 permissiveness.

Nothing in these Guiding Humanitarian Principles limits or conditions the CC0 dedication above. They exist solely to document the design philosophy and humanitarian intent of the Repository Works.

IV. Humanitarian Intent

The author releases the Repository Works into the public domain with the express purpose of enabling rapid, unrestricted use by any party capable of advancing diplomatic resolution, protecting civilians, or reducing regional destabilization.

No legal, intellectual-property, or attribution barrier should impede the immediate use of these Works for peaceful and humanitarian ends.

V. Disclaimer

THE WORKS ARE PROVIDED "AS IS," WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, AND NONINFRINGEMENT. THE AUTHOR ACCEPTS NO LIABILITY FOR ANY CLAIM, DAMAGES, OR OTHER LIABILITY ARISING FROM THE WORKS OR THEIR USE.
